

Mushfique Wadud

Denver, CO

mushfique.wadud@colorado.edu

www.mushfiquewadud.com

Journalist | Reporter | Digital Storytelling

Journalist with international reporting experience covering climate, policy, and community issues. Former contributor to The Guardian, Thomson Reuters Foundation, and The New Humanitarian. Skilled in field reporting, interviewing, and producing clear, engaging stories under deadline. Interested in contributing to local and community journalism in Colorado.

Reporting Experience

The Guardian (UK) — Bangladesh Stringer

Apr 2017 – Dec 2017

- Reported on breaking news and national developments
- Produced stories for a global audience in collaboration with international editors
- Conducted field interviews and developed original story pitches

Thomson Reuters Foundation — Reporter

Jan 2014 – Mar 2017

- Covered climate change, environment, and development issues
- Produced in-depth reporting on vulnerable communities and policy impacts
- Delivered timely stories with strong sourcing and on-the-ground reporting

The New Humanitarian — Bangladesh Correspondent

Jan 2009 – Dec 2013

- Reported on humanitarian crises, displacement, and development
- Published 200+ stories across digital platforms
- Conducted field reporting across multiple regions

Prothom Alo — Senior Reporter & Copy Editor

Jan 2018 – Aug 2018

- Produced investigative and feature stories
 - Edited copy and coordinated newsroom workflow
 - Contributed to audience growth through digital-focused reporting
-

Selected Skills

- Reporting & interviewing
 - Breaking news and feature writing
 - Data and digital journalism
 - Multimedia storytelling (text + photo)
 - WordPress & digital publishing
 - Audience engagement
-

Education

PhD Candidate, Journalism — University of Colorado Boulder (Expected 2026)

MA, Journalism — University of Nevada, Reno